General objectives / tasks:

- To think about a structure and network of communication that fits with the needs and limits of the network / participants, e.g. reliable, not too fancy but shining, accessible on a regular basis (each month...) and come up with practical possibility of creating our own platform
- To develop ideas for specific themes and formats for online discussion, e.g. webinar
- To think about how to include learners from outside the network
- To develop and try out tools / methods through which members can bring their “target groups” in touch, facilitate international dialogue (like done for the Bildungstage)
- Maybe something on filmmaking (with easy entry point)

Results:

- A short presentation with proposals for online-learning and online-communication to be discussed during the conference.
- Suggestions for a reviewed and improved communication platform including website
- Ideas for themes for webinars, skype-expert interviews; if possible statement of own contributions and suggestions for concrete other contributions
- Concrete suggestions for Learn2Change –online-modules
