Venue: Ecovillage Steyerberg, Ginsterweg 3, 31595 Steyerberg, lebensgarten.de/

Facilitation: Sabine Meyer, Indisches Haus

General objectives / tasks:

- to share and discuss basic concepts and beliefs underlying our educational/learning work (e.g. global learning, education for sustainable development, education for mother earth rights, global citizenship education etc., in order to collect deeper information, to identify global gaps etc..
- to concretize the concepts and link them to our work / network without agreeing on “one size for all”, but still have discourse on diverse concepts
- to share and try out successful educational methods and tools related to the topics of the workshops,
- to collect, elaborate / develop methods and contents for all target groups (especial those, we don't meet yet (important: who are those we don't meet yet? Non-privileged persons? Or privileged who don't have an intrinsic motivation for change? Who else?)? Learn2Change –modules in order to reach more people / target groups, to come out of the niche.

Results:

- A short report on the basic concepts and beliefs discussed with comments from the group in order to share at the conference. (The basis could be our vision and mission statement that could be developed further during the conference. Important: discover commonalities, common ground, celebrate diversity – and discuss what this means for the learn2-change-network. Possibly: develop “own Learn2change-method to work on this and bring this into the conference). Collection of examples for methods and tools (including their aims) that could be applicable in different countries / regional contexts; decision what could be shared in the conference. Can be already existing methods or “new” one.
- Ideas for articles in the publication on basic concepts and beliefs and on best practice; if possible statement of possible own contributions.
- Ideas for themes for webinars, skype-expert interviews; if possible statement of own contributions.
